The University of Lleida stands out at the 3rd Catalan Olympiad of Human Nutrition and Dietetics

The team Desnutridos 3 wins first prize in an event that brought together students from five Catalan universities

The University of Lleida (UdL) shone at the 3rd Catalan Olympiad of the Degree in Human Nutrition and Dietetics, an academic event that brought together 3rd- and 4th-year students from the five Catalan universities offering this program.

UdL participated with three teams —Desnutridos 1, Desnutridos 2 and Desnutridos 3—, achieving excellent results. The team Desnutridos 3 was proclaimed winner of the competition, earning first prize thanks to their knowledge, analytical skills and outstanding teamwork.

This recognition highlights the educational quality of the University of Lleida and the commitment of its students to academic excellence in the field of nutrition and dietetics.

Within the framework of the competition, it is also worth noting the participation of Rovira i Virgili University, which achieved second place, and the University of Barcelona, which finished in third position.

The event took place in an atmosphere of collaboration and knowledge exchange, allowing participants to share experiences and strengthen connections among future professionals in the field.
